With depth of warmth, wisdom, guidance, and commitment, our teachers nurtured deep relationships within the diverse community of our class. The curriculum has enriched me beyond measure. Prior to this year, learning music, creating visual art, singing in a choir, and gaining a solid, profound foundation in the humanities, particularly world history, seemed a distant possibility. Now these are all significant, joyous parts of my life. In no year prior have I felt such happiness and validation for the path I have chosen.
